DATA PROTECTION STATEMENT

The Gurkha Welfare Trust collects and uses personal information about its supporters, volunteer fundraisers, beneficiaries and employees in order to carry out its charitable work effectively.

We are committed to protecting personal information and handling it responsibly. We process personal data in accordance with the UK General Data Protection Regulation (UK GDPR) and the Data Protection Act 2018, and we take appropriate measures to keep information secure and prevent unauthorised access, loss or misuse.

We also collect information about our beneficiaries in Nepal. This information helps us deliver welfare services and support our charitable activities. Where beneficiary information is used to support fundraising, we ensure that it is used only where lawful, necessary and appropriate.

We respect your privacy and aim to keep the information we hold accurate and up to date. We only collect information that is necessary for our work and retain it only for as long as needed to fulfil our charitable, legal and regulatory obligations.

We do not sell personal information. We only share personal data where there is a lawful reason to do so, such as to support the delivery of our services, comply with legal requirements, or where consent has been given.

If you would like to know more about how we use and protect your personal information, please refer to our Privacy Notice or contact us using the details provided on our website.
